

Hi [redacted]

When I spoke to [redacted] on Monday, she told me about the new judge and read me an article from the Jan. 2011 website. One thing that continues to bother me is that they report the shooting was over loud music. I don't know if you have the time to do it, but I sure would appreciate it if you could somehow set the record straight in the comments area. You've read what happened... supposedly the guy from the front seat admits to turning the music off when I requested they turn it down. I love how the Davis attorney has 'proven' there were ~~no~~ weapons, yet we haven't gone to court yet. They seem very anxious to plant ideas in the press. Would be nice if somebody could counter their lies, as my attorney fails to do so. Sure wish I knew why my ~~current~~ judge bailed out on me. Hope the new judge (4th) is up for it and will be fair. I sure would like to go home and put this behind me.

Love

- Mike
